

It is not the picture or the statue made of earthly matter, but what the meaning and the significance of our Lady's insignia (sceptre and globe) in particular. The Mother of God will let the power of the Lord through his will work from Aachen cathedral throughout Europe and all over the world. Through these pictures or statues, the Lord wishes to create a new evangelisation in families, in churches, in politics and among all people."

According to Our Lady's wish the images (and later on also the statues) are consecrated with a special blessing formula. As consecrated devotional objects are not sold according to the order of the church, you can receive these sacramentals for a voluntary donation. We trust, however, that our apostolate will continue to flourish by the help of your voluntary donation. God bless you!

Hail Mary Empress, Help of Christians, Mother of Europe

Hail Mary Empress, Help of Christians, pray for the diocese consecrated to you, especially for the bishop,
all priests and consecrated souls and most particularly for a Christian Europe. Amen.

Promise of Our Lady for the protection of families and a new Christianisation of Europe

“In Europe, Satan’s hatred rages against all that is Christian! A great and painful trial will soon come upon Europe, as the offences against my son increase daily, yes, at every hour, more and more, and now the chalice is full! Only your prayer and reparation can still prevent God’s arm from lashing out.”

“If only you knew what my motherhood means.”
“I long for my statue of the ‘Empress of Aachen’ and ‘Help of Christians’ to come to families everywhere so that I can be present and take part.”

(Note: until the Bishop of Aachen gives his permission to reproduce statues of the image of grace, it should be first framed and consecrated images that are distributed so that this special blessing can reach the families.)

“My presence will be a source of protection and consolation for you, a source of trust and hope, of peace of heart and peace in families, particularly in this difficult present time of tribulation and struggle, so that I can bring about abundant graces. The time has now come to make this known and to pray.”

The profound meaning of this statue with miraculous powers can be understood by considering the historic value the ancient Cathedral of Aachen holds. This history that connects heaven and earth is now unfolding. The cathedral was consecrated to Our Lady 1200 years ago, because the mystery of the Incarnation of God was conceived in Our Lady: the Incarnation of the divine and Eternal Word.

This is the foundation of the divine plan, which in the Middle Ages shone a great light over Europe and the whole world from Aachen. In this way the European nations have become one in Christ and his Church. This mystery is what constitutes the European soul and identity according to St. John Paul II, because in Jesus Christ the divine kingdom was connected with the human earthly realm and God wants to renew this historic bestowal of grace.

This mystery is also expressed by the veneration of the garments worn by our Lady on Christmas Eve and the swaddling clothes of the infant Jesus, both of which are honoured in the Marian shrine of Aachen Cathedral.

This is the great message of hope for a new Christian Occident.

Through Mary, the “Empress of Aachen” and “Help of Christians”, God wants to give a new fusion of faith between heaven and earth through this image or statue and through these two titles “Empress of Aachen” and “Help of Christians”. “That will evoke a new Christianisation of Europe.
